Enchi College of Education, P. O. Box 44. Enchi

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Mr. Appiah, Solomon is currently a Tutor at Enchi College of Education. Appiah Solomon has gone through all the levels in Education so far as the Colleges of Education system is concerned. I started as Basic School teacher at Half-Assini in the Western Region of Ghana in 1998 after teacher training college and rose through the ranks to become a tutor in the College after my first degree and other subsequent programmes all at UCC. Mr. Appiah, Solomon is currently an M.Phil. holder in Basic Education with specialization in Religious and Moral Education (RME).

COMPETENCIES

I am capable of transforming others to become useful in society through role modeling and counselling. My high level of both pedagogical and content knowledge in education makes teaching a hobby to me though a profession. Playing on the internet has been my hobby as well as reading of story books and writing of purposeful articles. Publication of educational relevant journals is now a hobby than a challenge.

PROFESIONAL OR RESEARCH OBJECTIVES

I have taken keen interest in Professional Development Sessions and other meaningful and challenging issues at the college level very serious to update and upgrade my technological, pedagogical and content skills in teaching at the college level so as to meet the modern trends in education.

The first work to be published was under the topic: ‘Challenges Mentees Face in their Mentorship Programme in Enchi College of Education’ All my progression has been in education starting from the College up to the Masters level till my current position as a Tutor at Enchi College of Education. Solomon Appiah currently researched into a very modern and current topic on ‘Teachers’ Technological Pedagogical and Content Knowledge in the teaching of RME in Ghanaian Junior High Schools: a case in the Aowin district in the Western Region’ at the M. Phil level. Out of this study, four major publications have been done as of 2018 – 2019 with the International Journal of Multidisciplinary Research and Studies and the American Institute of Science (AIS) respectively. These publications are:

i) RME Teachers’ Technological Content Knowledge Base Impact on Students in Junior High School (JHS) Ghana. (Nov. 2018) International Journal of Multidisciplinary Research and Studies.

ii) Appraisal of RME Curriculum: Pedagogical Knowledge Practices in JHS in Ghana. (March, 2019). American Institute of Science (AIS)

iii) Teachers’ Technological, Pedagogical and Content Knowledge and its Practices on RME Curriculum in Ghana. (April, 2019). American Institute of Science (AIS).

iv) An Investigation into Public School Teachers’ Teaching Styles and Motivational Strategies in Ghana. (May, 2019). American Institute of Science (AIS)
